BROMPTON DESIGN DISTRICT

The Brompton Design District is recognised internationally as a leading destination for design. During London Design Festival, the 18th – 26th September, design organisations work together to present a definitive programme of one-off design exhibitions. The programme for 2010 includes more shows than in previous years, including events at influential London design shops and an extensive series of temporary exhibitions by progressive design organisations in unused space on and around Brompton Road.

All events take place a short walk from the V&A, the world's leading museum of art and design and the hub of the London Design Festival 2010. A Brompton Information Point for visitors and press is located within Studio Toogood on North Terrace (see map).

The Brompton Open Evening takes place on Thursday 23rd September from 5 – 8 pm. All listings with a ☾ will be open to visitors.
